In mathematics, a differential-algebraic system of equations (DAEs) is a system of equations that either contains differential equations and algebraic equations, or is equivalent to such a system. Such systems occur as the general form of (systems of) differential equations for vector-valued functions x in one independent variable t , $(\ddot{E}^T M^{-1}(), ()) = \text{where } : [,] \hat{+}'$ is a vector of dependent ...

Where N_r is the number of rungs in the water. N_j and N_r were allowed to take on real values so as to represent an averaged value and avoid jumps in the drag as depth changed. N_r was also constrained to equal three at 12 kt. The third term is the spray drag. Hoerner gives a Theoretical justifications and research. The model has been an empirical success in that it accurately predicts trade flows between countries for many goods and services, but for a long time some scholars believed that there was no theoretical justification for the gravity equation. However, a gravity relationship can arise in almost any trade model that includes trade costs that increase with ...

It's taken 21 months, four professors, and three associate/assistant professors, and THIS is the best they could come up with?
