RF Microwave Wireless High Frequency Application Note

Electrodynamics is the physics of electromagnetic radiation, and electromagnetism is the physical phenomenon associated with the theory of electrodynamics. Electric and magnetic fields obey the properties of superposition. Thus, a field due to any particular particle or time-varying electric or magnetic field contributes to the fields present in the same space due to other causes.

This means that even though WMAP could distinguish (about 8 pixels worth of) Moon microwaves from the background it simply did not have the angular resolution needed to distinguish microwaves from any individual star or galaxy (except our own Milky Way galaxy, which surrounds us, and a few neighboring galaxies such as Andromeda which is about 2.5 degrees wide).
