The Old Testament is the first section of the two-part Christian Biblical canon; the second section is the New Testament. The Old Testament includes the books of the Hebrew Bible or protocanon, and in various Christian denominations also includes deuterocanonical books. Orthodox Christians, Catholics and Protestants use different canons, which differ with respect to the texts that are included ...

Several commenters to the last post asked for some information on the satan. Although English Bibles continue the practice of capitalizing the word –satan– in passages like Job 1 and 2, those passages do not have a specific individual in mind – that is, –satan– in these passages should *not* be understood as a proper personal name.
